Overnight in Bermuda

TWO DAYS FROM ROYAL NAVAL DOCKYARD

Start with your ship times

This plan assumes your ship calls at Royal Naval Dockyard. Bermuda lies in the Atlantic Ocean. Verify your berth, all-aboard time and any overnight access arrangements before leaving the ship.

Day 1: choose a few highlights

Consider St. George's for historic streets, Crystal Caves with an advance booking, or Hamilton for shopping and dinner. Choose two or three stops that fit your transport and reservations. A South Shore beach stop is optional. Arrange road transport between attractions; they are not one walking circuit.

Evening and transport

Hamilton has a ferry connection with Dockyard. Direct ferry service between Dockyard and St. George's is seasonal and sailing days vary. Check the current timetable and service notices, particularly the last return. Arrange a taxi if needed. Harbour Nights takes place on selected summer Wednesdays; verify event dates before planning around it.

Day 2: keep the return simple

Consider a beach visit followed by Dockyard shops, waterfront and the National Museum area, if open. Check beach conditions and attraction access. Plan around the ship all-aboard time, allowing for road delays, transport queues and a generous return buffer.

OFFICIAL SOURCES | CHECKED 25 OCTOBER 2026

https://www.gotobermuda.com/plan/inspiration/article/bermuda-ferry-schedule
https://www.gotobermuda.com/our-island/festivals-holidays/bermudas-top-events

Confirm sailing-day transport, access, conditions and ship times. This guide is not for navigation.